Referention number: MDB001

Information:

The MDB001 ceiling strip is designed for a decorative finish at the junction of walls and ceilings. It features a universal profile that allows for use in various interior styles, both classic and modern. Made from a material resistant to standard usage conditions, it effectively conceals imperfections and installation gaps while also serving a decorative purpose. It is suitable for residential and commercial spaces. Installation is possible using construction adhesive, eliminating the need to alter the structure of the walls or ceiling, which shortens the installation time and eliminates the need for costly renovation work.
