Information:

The Flex MDA046F ceiling strip is designed to finish the junction between walls and ceilings in irregularly shaped rooms. Its flexible construction allows it to adapt to curved and uneven surfaces, ensuring a seamless profile and precise fit. Made from a pliable material, it facilitates installation without the need for additional processing. This product is intended for use in both residential and commercial spaces, serving as an aesthetic element that conceals imperfections at the ceiling line. Installation is recommended using mounting adhesive, and no specialized tools are required.
