Information:

The Flex MD106F ceiling strip is a flexible decorative profile designed for installation on curved surfaces, such as columns and pillars. Made from moisture-resistant material, it withstands UV radiation and minor mechanical damage, ensuring durability and an aesthetically pleasing appearance for years to come. It effectively conceals wires, tile joints, and visually enhances the height of a room. Installation is easy with mounting adhesive, requiring no specialized tools. After installation, the strip needs to be painted with solvent-free paint.
