Information:

The Flex MDB169F ceiling strip is designed for a polished finish at the junction of walls and ceilings, particularly in rooms with unconventional shapes. Thanks to FLEX technology, it can be adapted to rounded surfaces, such as pillars and columns. Made from moisture-resistant material that also withstands UV radiation and minor mechanical damage, it ensures durability and aesthetic appeal for many years. Once installed, it can be painted with solvent-free paints. Quick and easy installation is achieved using mounting adhesive.
