Information:

The Flex MDB210F ceiling strip is designed for an aesthetically pleasing finish at the junction of walls and ceilings. Its minimalist profile features a concave, rounded shape that suits both classic and modern designs. Made from moisture-resistant plastic, it also withstands UV radiation and minor mechanical damage. The flexible construction allows for installation on rounded surfaces, such as pillars and columns. It can be painted with water-based paints. Installation is simple with mounting adhesive, requiring no specialized tools.
