Information:

The Rosette B3030 is designed to aesthetically conceal the mounting points of ceiling lighting and to hide imperfections on the ceiling surface. Made from polyurethane, it demonstrates high resistance to moisture and minor mechanical damage, allowing for installation in both dry and humid environments, such as kitchens and bathrooms. It features a central hole for the electrical cable, which can be enlarged if necessary. Its minimalist design with delicate grooves ensures versatility in both classic and modern arrangements. The white surface is ready for painting. Installation is easy with mounting adhesive, requiring no specialized tools.
