Information:

The Duro Fit White PF080 skirting board is a finishing element designed to conceal expansion gaps between the wall and floor. Its white profile offers a neutral fit for various interior designs, while its shape allows for the aesthetic hiding of connection imperfections. Made of plastic, the skirting board is resistant to moisture and basic mechanical damage from everyday use. It can be installed using adhesive, eliminating the need for specialized tools and shortening installation time. This product helps protect the lower parts of walls from dirt and makes it easier to keep the area near the floor clean.
