Referention number: 6080V11B

Information:

Square base plate. Use this pipe connector for positioning structures. Due to the shape of the base plate, it can be easily attached to a surface at a 90° angle. However, it should not be used as a base for supporting guardrails or similar. Another advantage of the black paint is that it penetrates deeply into the material and provides the connector with an exceptionally high level of corrosion resistance. The color is not UV-resistant and therefore not suitable for outdoor use. The pipe connectors are equipped with black stainless steel screws with a trimmed edge.
